

Iñigo is back to the Duque of Najera Palace in Navarrete!

Yes, indeed... The owner of the Palace in Navarrete in which many times Iñigo stayed and visited has rebuilt the old part of the Palace and now is a pilgrim's hostel called "Posada Ignatius". The main entrance is still the one Iñigo saw and the stone to go up on his horse is still there close to the door. So... if you want to stay at the Palace for one night, you can dream that you are back to the XVI century with Iñigo and feel that you have to fight for the kingdom of Spain following the earthly desires of a man of the court of the Emperor Charles I.
