

Learning from God: live the present moment

I knew I needed a spiritual retreat. I had been running my business for the last ten years without one, so my soul was yearning for it. The Santiago Camino had been on my “bucket list” and I always thought I would do it when I ended my career to help me figure out what to do in my retirement years. While planning my Santiago Camino, the Lord stepped in and redirected me to go on the Ignatian Camino instead. And I am so glad He did.

Keep reading here